ERECT OIL REFINERY

Highland Park Manufacturing Co. to Spend Thousands.

AN EMBEZZLEMENT TRIAL

Negro Preacher and His Board of Stewards Are Charged With Misappropriating Church Funds-Business Changes in Charlotte.

(Continued from First Page.) CHARLOTTE, N. C., February 1.—The Highland Park Manufacturing Company has purchased from Mecklenburg county the county home property, which conmists of 192 acres located about two miles of the city. The purchase price was $14,400 or $75 an more for the entire finery, which will represent an outlay of $20,000.

The stockholders of the Highland Park Company are among the wealthlest business men of the entire State. Mr. W. E. Holt, its president, is several times a milliomaire, and other members of the Board of Directors are among our largest sapitalists. Already the company has baugurated plans which involve the expenditure of at least $760,000. The Times-Dispatch last week gave a description of the large $456,000 cotton mill that this company will erect in this city in the sariy springs The engineers and contractors were out to-day locating this mill, and the work of constructing the buildings will begin next week. Rock Hill, Columbia, Spartanburg and other nearby towns presented flattering offers for this company to locate their plants in these respective towns, but the Board of Directors was unanimous in selecting Charlotte as the basic point for the location of their large plants.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED.

In the criminal court to be held here next week the much talked of Clinton Chapel Church case will come up for adjudication. It is charged in the bill of indictment that Rev. A. J. Warner and his Board of Stewards embezzied $3,500 of the church funds. Clinton Chapel is one of the wealthlest colored congregations in the South, and it owns valuable property in this city. The case comes up on a new trial synanted by the Supreme Court, and a splendid array of legal talent represent both the prosecution and the defense.

With the removal of the Southern Rallway's general passenger offices to Atlanta, it is understood that the company will locate in Charlotte a division passenger office, which has heretofore been maintained in Atlanta.

An interesting business change was consummanted last night, Mr. James L. Tapp, who has been president of the Tapp Long Company since its organization, three years ago, resigned, and Mr. Julian H. Little was elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. Tapp is a native of Dairctors of the company. While quite a young man, he possesses business abilit The stockholders of the Highland Park

She had gone to a neighbor's to get her husband's gun, which had been borrowed and was going up the steps at her house when the hammer caught on the steps and the gun was discharged, the contents entering the woman's left breast.

Dr. Downey went out and dressed the wound. He says the woman is in a bad coundition, but he thinks she will recover.

Great Week is Promised the Visitors to Bostock's.

I MANY NEW

GORILLA A DRAWING CARD

FEATURES

Was Necessary to Shoot its Parents to Effect a Capture-Other Attractions That Have Been Provided.

The Bostock Animal Show is nothing if week will present one of the most remarkable exhibitions of wild and savage animal training that has ever been presented to lovers of amusement in this or any other country. Of course, the announcement made by the management is that Mr. Bostock has, after years of successful waiting and the expenditure of much money, at last secured an actual specimen of the gorilla family.

It was left for an enterprising young French explorer, Paul Du Chaillu, who was liberally supplied by the French Government with funds, to take an expedition into the very heart of the forest of Af-rica, where he came in contact with these terrible specimens of the ape man of Africa.

He shot and killed many specimens,

He shot and killed many specimens, both full grown and otherwise, and which were eventually brought to the various natural history museums of Europe, where they were skeletonized and set up by competent taxidermists, until this time the word gorilis had been believed to be a traveler's fable and a myth, something which did not actually exist.

The gorilla, this special feature of the anthropold, walking erect apes of Africa, is the first specimen that has ever been successfully landed alive in the United States. To procure him it was necessary to shoot both the father and mother. He is a bright, intelligent little specimen, about as big as a little negro baby of three or four years of age, Judging by what we can see of him, of his size, form and character, we should average him at about three years of age. He is covered with deep black hair and looks like a veritable little negro. Indeed, so black is he that one could imagine that charcoal would make a white mark on him. Should it be possible to acclimatize him and were he to grow up to full height and stature, he would reach an enormous height of five feet nine laches, measuring some way about sixty inches around the chest, with muscles of arms and legs to correspond—a most truly formidable being. A special house is being fitted up for him, with beds, electric heater and spartments, and he will be placed on exhibition this coming week.

Yesterday, he gave a special reception to ments, and he will be placed on exhibi-tion this coming week.

Yesterday he gave a special reception to the gentlemen of the medical fraternity, and the expressed opinion was that he was absolutely the greatest product of the forest or the jungle that civilization has as yet seen.

For the forthcoming week are specially amounced the following features: By request, the reappearance of Professor R. J. Aginton, the celebrated roller skate quest, the reappearance of Professor R. J. Aginton, the celebrated roller skate expert, in a series of scientine and fancy evolutions of this popular pastime. The first appearance of Madam Gertrude Pijanka, "the lady of lions," introducing the famous supper scene. La Belle Solica, the Algerian dancer, in a den of lions. On Thursday, February 12th, a special benefit is given for the Masonic Home of Virginia, and on which occasion the chilidren of Governor Montague will, at 4 P. M., name the li'le baby lions in the large areas. Indeed, there are so many novelties and new features to be introducd to the public this coming week that a programme of more than exceptional merit is provided, and it is difficult to say how many features can be placed on exhibition, as they are too numerous to mention. A shiplead of animals, consisting of liens, bears, tigers, wolves, snakes and hyenas, has just arrived, and will make Eostock's one of the popular features of the amusement world and of the city of Richmond.

Visitors to this exhibition this coming week are therefore assured of an excep-tionally good time.

It has been demonstrated in recent years that it is possible to produce pictures by photography, of a high artistic order, heretofore unattained—a significant fact that the French and German—as well as the American art societies have opened their exhibitions to photographic workers of artistic ability.

There is much comment here on the action of the Finance Committee of the Legislature, who recently fixed the salaries for the officers of the several State hospitals. Philadelphia Man Writes Register of Deeds to Change the Records.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
DURHAM, N. C., Feb. 7.—The Register of Deeds here had a peculiar request yesterday from W. B. Alexander, playing with a theatrical troup. On November 25th of last year a license was issued here for the marriage of W. B. Arrington and Miss Gussie Heiston, both registering from Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed here in the Methodist Church by the late W. C. Norman, the pastor. Now Alexander, alias Arrington, writes the Register of Deeds that they were married under false names and asks him to alter his record to the names given him in the letter. This could not be done, and in answering the letter he advised him to get a new license and marry again. The real name of the groom is claimed to be William Bond.
